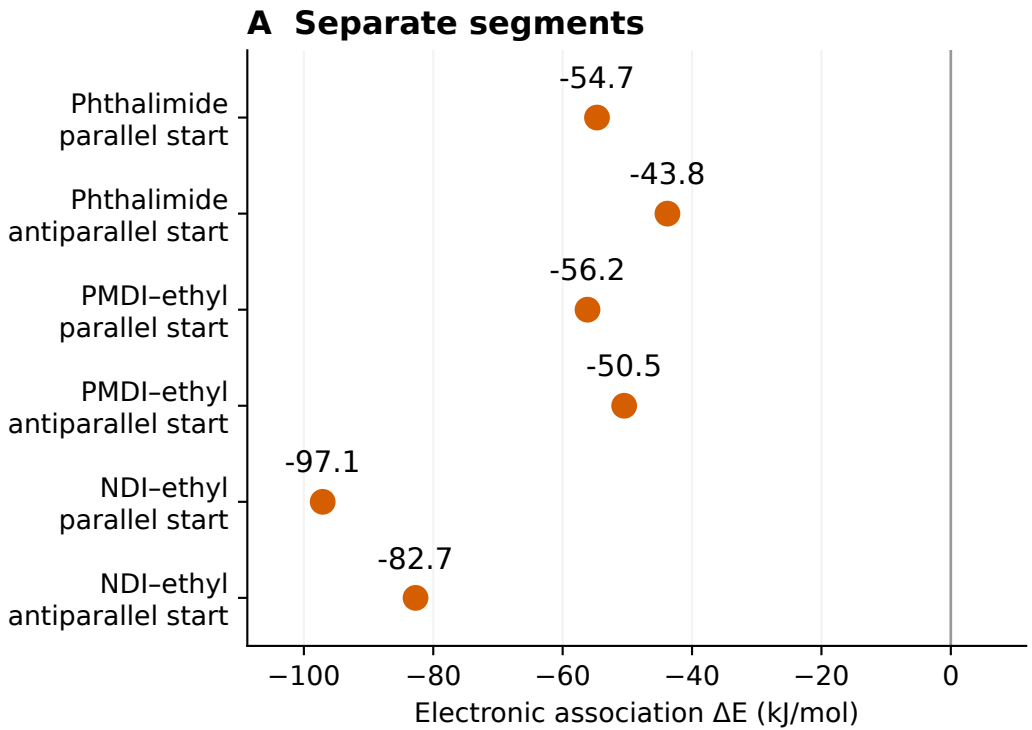
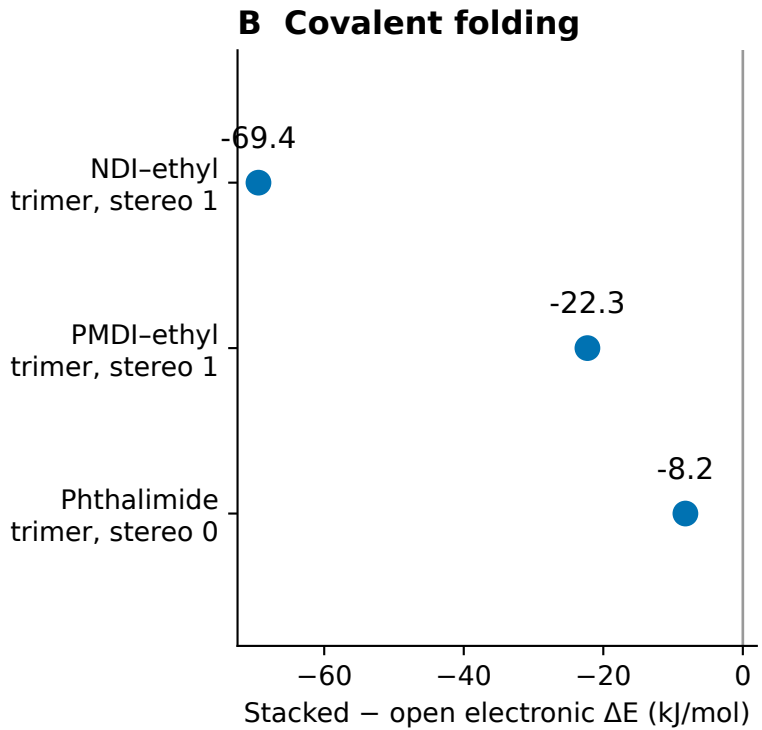
Quantifying nearby-site interaction strength

26/27 DFT cases checked · MeCN · no interaction ΔG or electron-transfer rates





Stacked contacts occur for 3/3 dimer controls. Geometry alone does not quantify interaction strength.

Association includes backbone/cap contacts and deformation; covalent folding includes conformational effects. BSSE and entropy remain unqualified.

These deterministic structure comparisons have no quantified error bars. Geometry and electronic ΔE do not establish equilibrium populations or transfer rates.