
One contrast per core with the strongest decrease shared by both events.
Computed local graft models; a potential shift does not prove polymer performance.